All other Shareholders (Non-Resident Shareholders) will not be issued Bonus Options under this Prospectus. Ramelius has determined, in accordance with the Listing Rules, that it would be unreasonable to make an offer under this Prospectus to Non-Resident Shareholders having regard to:
 - 1.3.1 the number of Shareholders in the places where the offer would be made;
 - 1.3.2 the number and value of the options that would be offered; and
 - 1.3.3 the cost of complying with the legal requirements in those places.
- 1.4 This Prospectus does not constitute an offer in any place in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer.
- 1.5 Definitions of certain terms used in this Prospectus appear in the Glossary.

2. DETAILS OF THE ISSUE

2.1 The Issue

The Company is issuing Bonus Options on a one for two basis to holders of Shares who are registered as at the close of business on 30 June 2006. The Bonus Options are being issued free to Shareholders. Fractional entitlements to Bonus Options will be rounded up to the next whole number. The total number of Bonus Options to be allotted will be up to approximately 45.2 million.

The Bonus Options to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus will be issued and holding statements despatched by no later than 14 July 2006, or such later date as determined by the Directors in accordance with the Listing Rules.

2.2 Purpose of the Issue

Any funds raised by the exercise of Bonus Options will be used as working capital to finance the exploration and development of tenements in the Company's existing portfolio as well as to look for new opportunities in acquiring proven or producing assets to which the Company can add value through technical enhancements.

2.3 Terms of the Bonus Options

The Bonus Options will be issued on the following terms:

2.3.1 Entitlement to ordinary shares

Optionholders will be entitled on payment of $0.175 per share (the "Exercise Price") to be allotted one ordinary fully paid share in the Company for each Option exercised (subject to possible adjustments referred to below).

2.3.2 Exercise Period

Options are exercisable in whole or in part at any time from 14 July 2006 until 30 June 2007 (the 'Exercise Period'). Any options not exercised before the expiry of the Exercise Period will lapse.

2.3.3 Method of Exercise

Options are exercised by notice in writing to the Board delivered with payment of the Exercise Price in cleared funds to the registered office of the Company. The Company will apply for Options to be quoted on ASX. The Company will also apply for official quotation on ASX for new shares allotted on exercise of the Options which will participate equally in all respects with existing issued ordinary shares. Shares allotted on exercise of Options will qualify for dividends declared after the date of their allotment.

2.3.4 Transfer

Options are freely transferable subject to any restriction agreement.

2.3.5 New Issues

An Option holder may only participate in new issues of securities to holders of ordinary shares in the Company if the Option has been exercised and shares allotted in respect of the Option before the record date for determining entitlements to the new issue. The Company must give prior notice to the Option holder of any new issue before the record date for determining entitlements to the issue in accordance with the Listing Rules.

2.3.6 Bonus Issues

If there is a bonus issue of shares to the holders of ordinary shares in the Company, the number of ordinary shares over which the Option is exercisable will be increased by the number of ordinary shares which the holder of the Option would have received if the Option had been exercised before the bonus issue record date.

2.3.7 Rights Issues

If the Company makes a rights issue (other than a bonus issue), the Exercise Price of Options on issue will be reduced according to the following formula:

$$O' = O - E(P - (S + D)) / (N + 1)$$

Where:

O' = the new exercise price of the Option;

O = the old exercise price of the Option;

E = the number of underlying ordinary shares into which one Option is exercisable;

P = the average closing sale price per ordinary share (weighted by reference to volume) recorded on the stock market of ASX during the 5 trading days ending on the day before the ex rights date or ex entitlements date (excluding special crossings and overnight sales);

S = the subscription price for an ordinary share under the pro rata issue;

D = the dividend due but not yet paid on each ordinary share at the relevant time (except those to be issued under the pro rata issue); and

N = the number of ordinary shares which must be held to entitle holders to receive a right to one new ordinary share in the pro rata issue.

For the purposes of this formula securities has the meaning given to it in the Listing Rules.

2.3.8 Reorganisation of Capital

If, during the currency of the Options the issued capital of the Company is reorganised, Options will be reorganised to the extent necessary to comply with the Listing Rules.

2.4 ASX Quotation

An application will be made within 7 days after the date of this Prospectus for the Bonus Options issued pursuant to this Prospectus to be admitted to quotation on ASX. The fact that ASX may admit the Bonus Options to quotation is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Company or the Bonus Options.

2.5 Rights attaching to Shares

If you exercise your Bonus Options you will be issued Shares in the Company. Full details of the rights attaching to Shares are set out in the Company's constitution, a copy of which may be inspected at the Company's registered office. A summary of the rights follows.

3. INFORMATION ABOUT THE COMPANY

3.1 Disclosing Entity

This Prospectus is issued pursuant to section 713 of the Act as a prospectus for the offer of continuously quoted securities.

The Company is a "disclosing entity" for the purposes of the Act and as such is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations. Specifically, as a listed company, the Company is subject to the Listing Rules which require continuous disclosure to the market of any information the Company has which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's shares.

ASX maintains files containing publicly disclosed information about all listed companies. The Company's file is available for inspection at ASX in Adelaide during normal working hours. In addition, copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to the Company may be obtained from, or inspected at, any Regional Office of ASIC.

3.2 Information Available to Shareholders and Prospective Investors

The Company will provide a copy of each of the following documents free of charge, to any Shareholder or prospective investor who so requests during the application period under this Prospectus:

- 3.2.1 the 2005 Annual Report of the Company which contains the financial statements for the 2004/2005 financial year;
- 3.2.2 the 2005 Half Year Report of the Company which contains the financial statements for the six months to 31 December 2005; and
- 3.2.3 the announcements lodged with ASX since release of the 2005 Annual Report, listed in part 6 of this Prospectus.

3.3 Market Prices of Shares

The lowest and highest market sale price of Shares on ASX during the 3 months immediately before 5 June 2006, and the respective dates of those sales, were 11 cents on 6 March 2006 and 22 cents on 11 May 2006. The last sale price for Shares on ASX before the date of this Prospectus was 15 cents on 2 June 2006.

3.4 Capital Structure of the Company

As at the date of this Prospectus, the Company had on issue approximately 90.5 million Shares and 30.5 million Options exercisable at 18.687 cents by 31 December 2007.

As stated above, the Issue will result in the Company having on issue up to an additional 45.2 million Options on the terms set out in paragraph 2.3. The Issue will not raise immediate cash funds for the Company as the Bonus Options to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus will be issued for no consideration. If all of the Bonus Options that may be issued pursuant to this Prospectus are exercised, the Company will raise additional funds of potentially up to approximately $7.91 million and assuming all existing options are exercised, could potentially have on issue up to 166.2 million Shares.

Any funds raised by the exercise of Bonus Options will be used as working capital to finance the exploration and development of tenements in the Company's existing portfolio as well as to look for new opportunities in acquiring proven or producing assets to which the Company can add value.

3.5 Risk Factors

As with all investments, investors should be aware that the market price of securities in the Company may fall as well as rise. The potential returns of the Company will be exposed to risks specific to the Company and to general investment risks. While it is impossible to identify all risks, the attention of investors is drawn to the following particular risks. Prior to exercising the Bonus Options, option holders should carefully consider all risks including the following, as well as other information contained in this Prospectus.

3.5.1 Resource Estimates

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information becomes available.

In addition, resource estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. Should the Company encounter mineralisation or formations different from those predicted by past drilling, sampling and similar examinations, resource estimates may have to be adjusted and mining plans may have to be altered in a way which could adversely affect the Company's operations.

3.5.2 Exploration and Development Risks

Mineral exploration and mining are high risk enterprises, only occasionally providing high rewards. In addition to the normal competition for prospective ground and the high average costs of discovery of an economic deposit, factors such as demand for commodities, stock market fluctuations affecting access to new capital, sovereign risk, environmental issues, labour disruption, project financing difficulties, foreign currency fluctuations and technical problems all affect the ability of a company to profit from any discovery.

There is no assurance that exploration and development of the mineral interests held by the Company, or any other projects that may be acquired in the future, will result in the development of an economic ore deposit. Even if the Company holds an apparently viable deposit, there is no guarantee that it can be profitably exploited. Therefore, there is the risk that the Company may abandon certain tenements and acquire others.

A failure by the Company to adhere to the requirements for minimum expenditure in accordance with the Mining Act (WA) may, unless an exemption is granted, subject the tenements to possible plaint and/or forfeiture.

3.5.3 Environmental Risks

The Company's projects are subject to Western Australian and Commonwealth laws and regulations regarding environmental matters and the discharge of hazardous wastes and materials. As with all mining projects, these projects would be expected to have a variety of environmental impacts should development proceed. The Company intends to conduct its activities in an environmentally responsible manner and in accordance with applicable laws.

3.5.4 Title Risks

All of the tenements in which the Company has an interest will be subject to applications for renewal, the success of which cannot be guaranteed. If a tenement is not renewed, the Company may suffer significant damage through loss of the opportunity to develop and discover any mineral resources on that tenement. However, the Directors are not aware of any reason why renewal of the term of any tenement will not be granted.

3.5.5 Native Title Risks

Some of the Company's tenements are located within areas the subject of claims or applications for native title determination. Both the Native Title Act 1993 (Commonwealth) and related State native title legislation and aboriginal lands rights and aboriginal heritage legislation may affect the Company's ability to obtain access to certain of its exploration areas or obtain mining production titles. Settling any such claims may incur costs to the Company. The degree to which this may impact on the Company's activities will depend on a number of factors, including the status of particular tenements and their locations. At this stage, the Company is not able to quantify the impact, if any, of such matters on its operations.

Native Title is the recognition in Australian law of indigenous Australian's rights and interests in land and waters according to their own traditional laws and customs. In June 1992, the High Court of Australia, in the case of Mabo v Queensland (1992) 175 CLR 1, overturned the idea that the Australian continent belonged to no one at the time of European's arrival. It recognised for the first time that indigenous Australians may continue to hold native title. Indigenous Australians may now make native title claimant applications seeking recognition under Australian law of their native title rights.

The land comprising the tenements may be affected by native title. If affected, native title legislation may impact upon the grant of the relevant titles for the tenements and the subsequent operation on those tenements.

Some of the land the Company wants to mine, explore or prospect is included in native title claimant applications. These applications could take several years in mediation or court proceedings before a final decision is reached.

The existence of a native title claim is not an indication that native title in fact exists in relation to the land covered by the claim, as this is ultimately a matter to be determined by the Court.

If native title is found to exist, a determination will be made setting out the rights and interests of the native title holders. Native title holders may, for example, have the right to go onto and live on the land, and maintain places of importance.

Mining or general purpose leases granted under the WA mining legislation (Mining Act 1978) do not necessarily extinguish all native title rights and interests. However, there are some native title rights and interests, such as the right to control the use of and access to the area, which are extinguished by the grant of a mining lease.

The law and practice in relation to native title and the exploration and mining on tenements subject to native title can be complex and difficult. Investors should obtain professional advice as to the applicability of the Commonwealth of Australia Native Title Act 1993 and the general regime of native title so far as it relates to the exploration and development to be undertaken by the Company on the tenements and the rights to control the use of and access to the areas comprising mining leases in which the Company has an interest.

3.5.6 Share Market Conditions

As a listed company, the Company's share price may be subject to the numerous influences that may affect both the broad trend of the stock market and the share price of individual companies. The market price of Shares and Options can be expected to rise and fall in accordance with general market conditions and factors specifically affecting the Australian resources sector and exploration companies in particular. Such factors are beyond the control of the Company and its Directors. The market price of the Shares and Options can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resource stocks in particular. Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return of an investment in the Company.

3.5.7 Commodity Price Risk

The Company is exploring for metal commodities, predominantly gold. Any decision to mine ore containing economic quantities of these commodities will be closely related to the price of these commodities. Metal prices fluctuate and are affected by factors beyond the control of the Company. These factors include world supply and demand for metals and foreign currency fluctuations.

3.5.8 Legal Risks

The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation by governments, developments in existing common law, or the respective interpretation of the legal requirements in any of the legal jurisdictions which govern the Company's operations or contractual obligations, could impact adversely on the assets, operations and, ultimately, the financial performance of the Company and its securities. In addition there is a commercial risk that legal action may be taken against the Company in relation to commercial matters.

3.5.9 Mining and Other Operational Issues

In the event that the Company commences mining and production, there are risks and hazards beyond the Company's control that may adversely affect its operations. These include, but are not limited to extended interruptions due to inclement or dangerous weather conditions, flooding, earthquakes, fire, explosions and other accidents, industrial disruptions or work stoppages, technical equipment failure, refurbishment and unexpected changes in rock lithologies and structures. No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the successful exploration and development of its project interests.

3.5.10 General Economic Conditions

Changes in both domestic and world economic conditions may adversely affect the financial performance of the Company. Factors that may be involved include the general level of economic activity, inflation, interest rates and other economic factors.

3.5.11 Government Policy Changes

Government policies are subject to review and changes from time to time. Such changes are likely to be beyond the control of the Company and may affect industry profitability as well as the Company's capacity to explore and mine.

At present the Company is not aware of any reviews or changes that would affect its tenements. However, changes in community attitudes on matters such as taxation, competition policy, environmental and indigenous lands right issues may bring pressures on the political process to bring about reviews and possibly changes in government policies. There is a risk that such changes may affect the Company's exploration plans or its rights and obligations in respect of its tenements. Any such government action may also require increased capital or operating expenditures and could prevent or delay certain operations by the Company.

3.5.12 Unforeseen Expenditure Risk

Expenditure may need to be incurred that has not previously been taken into account by the Company. Although the Company is not aware of any such additional expenditure requirements, if such expenditure is subsequently incurred, this may adversely affect the expenditure proposals of the Company.

3.5.13 Additional Funding and Future Capital Needs

The Company believes that its available cash and the net proceeds of this Offer should be adequate to fund the continued exploration of its projects and other Company objectives. In the event that the funds are insufficient, further capital may need to be raised.

However, there can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms, or at all. Any inability to obtain additional funding, if required, may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and its financial condition and performance.

3.5.14 Uninsured Loss and Liability

Exploration for and development of minerals involves hazards and risks that could result in the Company incurring losses and liabilities to third parties. There is a risk that the Company may not be insured against all losses or liabilities that could arise from its operations. If the Company incurs losses or liabilities which are not covered by its insurance policies, the funds available for exploration and development will be reduced and the value and/or tenure of the Company's assets may be at risk.
